Nuffield Scholarships 2020 – open for applications!

At the end of the 1939/45 war food was scarce on a global scale and rationed at home, with British farming in the doldrums and at a very low ebb. To help alleviate the situation Lord Nuffield had a vision of sending some younger go-ahead farmers to look for ideas from around the world which could be brought back to the UK to improve the output of its farming industry. That was the beginning of the Nuffield Farming Scholarships, which originally encompassed the Commonwealth countries, but has now become established as a worldwide organisation.

Whatever happens with Brexit, 'in or out' farming will be different. It will come under increasing pressures, to produce more with less, and increasingly having to encompass environmental and other issues.

So post-Brexit there will be a need to rekindle Lord Nuffield's desire to send people from the farming and food industries around the globe to seek ideas and innovations to enhance the British food industry.

Ever since the early days of the scholarships, Herefordshire has been well represented and many of the ideas those past scholars have brought back have benefited others.

A 'Nuffield' opens doors and gives unique opportunities to meet leading farmers, innovators, business people and politicians. If you are between 22 and 45 years old and want to glean ideas which could help your business, why not apply and join the other Herefordshire scholars.

Applications must be in by 31st July. No academic qualifications are required, just enthusiasm and an enquiring mind.

All the details are on the Nuffield Farming Scholarships Trust website at www.nuffieldscholar.org/news/2020-scholar-applications-now-open/ but also seek out and chat to one of the many Herefordshire Scholars, such as Louise Manning, Clare Greener or Ian Howie, email ianhowie1@btinternet.com

Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Agriculture Regulations – Do you know what they cover?

Our countryside contains some very special places, rich in wildlife, history and landscape features. To avoid loss of these features from our public heritage, the Environmental Impact Assessment (Agriculture) Regulations require farmers to go through a screening process for certain projects that make changes to rural land. Screening selects out the projects with a likely significant environmental effect for further assessment, letting the rest proceed as planned.

- If you are planning to make changes to rural land, it is worth refreshing your understanding of the EIA (Agriculture) Regulations 2006 (as amended).
- Beginning or carrying out a relevant project without a screening decision from Natural England is an offence under the Regulations and is also a breach of Cross Compliance.
- Failure to comply with the Regulations can result in enforcement action from Natural England and/or penalties from RPA on your BPS and agri-environment payments.

Screening application

You must apply to Natural England for a screening decision if you are:

Carrying out an uncultivated land project:

- Increasing the productivity of land for agriculture on uncultivated or semi-natural area that is equal to or over the 2 ha threshold.

Carrying out a restructuring project:

- Altering field boundaries over 4 km long (or 2 km long in protected landscapes), including fencing on commons;
- Moving or redistributing earth over 10,000 cubic metres or on an area of 100 ha or more (or 5,000 cubic metres or on an area of 50 ha or more in a protected landscapes).

Uncultivated land projects cover semi-natural areas, which include:

- Priority habitats such as species-rich grassland, fen, scrub, or bracken beds (for full list see JNCC UK BAP habitat list online);
- Historic environment features such as medieval earthworks or ridge and furrow;
- Landscape features such as historic parks and gardens.

If there is semi-natural area within your project area (and this is over 2 ha), this falls within the Regulations, regardless of cultivation history. Consultations with county archaeologists and local biological records centres will provide information on whether such features are present.

Where to find out more

Further information and EIA Screening Application forms can be found online HERE

If you require further advice please contact the Natural England EIA helpline (free phone) on 0800 028 2140 or email EIA.England@naturalengland.org.uk

The Wye & Usk Foundation – Here to Help

Natural Flood Management: Our advisers are working with landowners in target catchments to help deliver Natural Flood Management interventions through a DEFRA funded project. The target catchments are the Dulas, Bodenham, Pentaloe, Tedstone, Cheaton, Ridgemoor and Red/Twyford Brook. The project is run in partnership with Herefordshire Council and we can offer soil structure assessments, infiltration rate tests, worm counts and organic matter testing. If you farm in one of the target catchment and would like to find out more please call one of our advisers or visit:

<https://www.herefordshire.gov.uk/info/200196/roads/345/flooding/6>

Metaldehyde: It was recently announced that Metaldehyde will be banned from 2020. It has been a concern in the Wye for many years due to its impact on Drinking Water abstractions belonging to Severn Trent lower down the catchment. We are asking users to continue to follow safe spreading and handling procedures with any Metaldehyde based slug pellets they have left to use up during this transition period. Alternative products which use ferric phosphate as the active ingredient are just as effective for slug control thankfully!

Stewardship Schemes: Agreement offers are slowly trickling out for the schemes applied for last summer, if we assisted with your application and you would like us to check your agreement document please contact your adviser. We are also already getting requests for 2019 scheme applications – start thinking about it now and give us a call if you'd like us to help!

Our Advisers: Our team has expanded again, and we are now a team of 8 – Kate, Mike, Lucinda, Tom and Jonny are all working across Herefordshire – we have now been joined by Abi Croshaw who was previously with CSF. Liz Price currently delivers farm advice in the Welsh Wye and has now been joined by Bridie Whittle.

For more information or to request a visit please contact one of the WUF advisers: Kate Adams (07766 330 959) Lucinda Lewis (07824 904 877); Mike Williams (07920 441 215); Tom Jolley (07545 253 155); Jonny Pugh (07825 743 447) Liz Price (07776 197740); Abi Croshaw (07990 068941); Bridie Whittle (07799 049373)

From Paul Crumpton - West Mercia Police

DVLA have a scheme which allows people to register their unregistered agricultural vehicles, plant & machinery, in case it ever gets stolen, at no cost.

It's very difficult for the Police to trace owners of recovered agricultural items because a lot are never road registered and do not appear on the national computer system. By informing DVLA for free, it will make a huge difference to establishing ownership and returning items.

There is the 'obligatory' form and it can also be completed online.
